*Lauren Smith
Director of Human Resources at Responsive Technology
Partners, Inc.*

This certification marks a significant milestone in Lauren's career, demonstrating her dedication to excellence and her commitment to staying at the forefront of the HR profession. The Society of Human Resource Management CP certification is a testament to her expertise in HR management and her ongoing pursuit of professional development.

Lauren has been an invaluable asset to Responsive Technology Partners, consistently demonstrating her exceptional leadership skills, strategic thinking, and dedication to fostering a positive and inclusive workplace culture. Her passion for HR excellence has not only enriched our organization but has also positively impacted the lives of our employees.

"We are incredibly proud of Lauren's achievement," said Steven McComas MPA, MBA, CPA, CGMA and CEO of Responsive Technology Partners, Inc. "This certification reflects her unwavering commitment to excellence and reinforces her ability to lead our HR initiatives with expertise and professionalism."

As a certified member of the Society of Human Resource Management, Lauren will continue to drive innovation and excellence in HR practices at Responsive Technology Partners, ensuring that our organization remains at the forefront of industry standards and best practices.

Please join us in congratulating Lauren on this remarkable accomplishment. She is truly deserving of this recognition, and we look forward to her continued contributions to Responsive Technology Partners and the HR profession.
